July 19, 1904

The first prize for the best trades turn out at the Didsbury Sports was awarded to the float of Wm. G. Liesemer and Co., with J. V. Bersch's a close second.

The output of butter at the creamery during the last week was about 3000 pounds.

Mrs. Good and Mrs. Robertson from Peterboro, arrived last week and are now on their homesteads.

J.Y. Shantz, founder of Didsbury, was in town this week. He was surprised by the growth of Didsbury.

Splendid weather for road-making.

ATTEND THE FAIR
AT DIDSBURY NEXT
WED'DAY, JULY 17

Final preparations have been made for the holding of Didsbury's 41st annual Exhibition and Sports on Wednesday, July 17th and if fine weather prevails one of the largest crowds ever to attend a local exhibition is expected to be on hand to view the exhibits and enjoy the sports program.

Entries are now being received by the secretary, C.E. Reiber, and all indications point to an increase of exhibits in nearly all classes shown in the prize list.

The sports program will be a big feature this year and in the horse races there will be at least three entries, including Pete Mc-

CRYSTAL DAIRY LTD. WINS
2nd AT BRANDON EXHIBITION

The local branch of the Crystal Dairy Ltd. was successful in winning a second prize for butter at the Brandon Exhibition held last week. They also had the highest point scoring exhibit of butter for Alberta Creameries at this fair.

Congratulations are in order to the patrons of the local creamery for producing such high quality cream, and also to the local butter-maker, G. Sherrick, for his fine showing.

RUGBY W. I. MEETS AT HOME OF MRS. HOSEGOOD

This month, W.I. members visited the home of the secretary, Mrs. J. Hosegood. There was an attendance of 19, and the "weatherman" being in a good humor, for a change, we spent a very jolly afternoon. After a short business session the Roll was called and each one called had to entertain the company, and the items were many and varied. Another food parcel is to be sent over to England and another little boy's refugee outfit is being gathered up. Two delegates are being sent to the O.S.A. on July 22nd. The winning number on our Handicraft quilt was drawn. Mrs. Alfred Cowitz being the lucky lady. After lunch had been served, the members gathered on the lawn and some pictures were taken of the group. The August meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. L. Krebs.

GOOD PRICES RECEIVED
AT CARSTAIRS CALF SALE

About 500 people attended the Junior Calf Club Sale and show sponsored by the Carstairs Board of Trade. This was the fourth annual show and sale held at Carstairs with the West Didsbury. Carstairs, Avondale Club of the Carleton and Granger district and the Olds Junior Beef Calf Clubs participating.

The 64 calves sold for a total of $7777 making an average of 13 1/2 cents per pound. However the average would have been higher but not one of the calves became bleated. Medicine was administered but the animal was still sick when sold for 10 1/2 cents per pound.

The Grand Champion of the show was sold to T. Eaton and Co. Calgary, for 51 cents a pound. Weighing 930 pounds, this Hereford Heifer brought $474.30 for Vera Blaine of the West Didsbury Beef Calf Club, this being the highest price ever paid at a Carstairs Calf Club Sale. This calf was selected from the herd of her father, A.A. Blaine, Didsbury and was put on dry feed about last Christmas.

It was fed a mixture of wheat, oats and barley chop lined up, cake and timothy and bromo hay. In making the award, the judges, John Wilson Sr., Innisfail and H.E. Wilson, Assistant Superintendent Dominion Experimental Farm, Lacombe, commented the smoothness and fine fleshing of this heifer.

The judging was done in the morning, the calves from each club being judged as a unit, with the two best from each club being judged in the finals.

The Reserve Championship was won by a Shorthorn steer, fitted for the show by Lloyd Halstead of the Avondale Club, Granger. This animal was sold to Gordon Booth, of the Carstairs Meat Market for 29 cents a pound. Weighing 182 pounds this steer brought $182.

Previously Lloyd had won both Grand Championship and Reserve Championship of the show. His calf this year was purchased by W.L. McColister, of Dalry.

Winners of inter-club competitions were as follows:

TOWN COUNCIL SETS
NEW TAX RATE OF
42 MILLS FOR 1946

At the regular meeting of the Council of the Town of Didsbury, held last Tuesday evening July 7, the estimates for the year 1946 submitted by the secretary and the 13c rate was 25.42 mills per dollar. This rate is the combined total of 17 1/2 mills for Social Services, 5 mills for Urban Schools, and 5 mills for the hospital.

Geo. Gerlitz and Mac Wood, representing the Didsbury branch of the Canada Legion, reviewed the Council and submitted plans for a Community Centre and an architect's drawing of a Memorial Hall. They asked that land be set aside for such a project, but council advised that the land in question was being held in reserve for the proposed Memorial Hall and Community Centre.

It was decided to have a test made of the town wells to determine the flow of water in connection with the water and sewage system for Didsbury.

WITH THE GUN CLUB

The fifth weekly shoot of the Didsbury Gun Club was held last Tuesday evening, July 2nd, when 16 sportsmen turned out to enjoy the trap shoot.

Si Armstrong again was high man for the evening when he broke 21 out of 25 clays.

The following is the score for the evening's shoot: L. Bersch 18; Stander 12; Wilkins 12; Walders 12; Ranton 12; Watkin 15; Prevost 10; Sherrick 8; Rouleau 28; Armstrong 21; Adv 8; Lynch-Staunton 7; Mc Coy 11; Glaum 13; O. Hansen 16; E. Hansen 9.

In fairness to the last six entries it must be stated that they were somewhat handicapped when they were forced to use No. 5 shot, owing to the scarcity of regulation 7 1/2 trap lead.

Civilian Aviation

THE RECENT DECISION of the Provisional International Civil Aviation Organization, usually referred to as PICAQ, to make its permanent headquarters in the city of Montreal was welcomed in all parts of Canada. PICAQ is considered to be one of the most important of the international organizations and it is a tribute to Canada that aviation leaders from the twenty-seven member states represented should select this country for the site of its permanent headquarters. On air maps showing the northern hemisphere Canada appears to be in the centre, rather than at the top of the world, and many important air routes lie across Canadian skies. As a country which will undoubtedly play a leading part in the future development of aviation, Canada has been deeply interested in the organization of PICAQ, whose work is concerned with establishing an international air technical code and other related matters.

Many Reasons For Concern

In addition to her geographic position, Canada has many other reasons for being deeply interested in the future of civilian aviation. During the war many thousands of Canadians were trained in the production, maintenance and operation of aircraft, and large numbers of these skilled workers are now available for civilian employment. Figures show that more than 120,000 men and women have been employed in the production of aircraft here, while 200,000 men entered the Royal Canadian Air Force for training, 73,000 graduating as air crew. During the war, Canada also developed many air airports. All the bases established for training or defense purposes are not of practical value for commercial uses, but some others have been leased by the government to municipalities and other bodies for a nominal sum, and will be used for civilian flying. It is estimated that there are some 250 land airports in Canada.

Rapid Advances During The War

As was the case in many fields, aviation made very rapid advances during the war. New international air routes were mapped out, new types of planes were developed and much equipment contributed to the making of a new and brilliant chapter in aviation history, but they have also raised many problems in regard to civilian international air travel. PICAQ was organized to deal with these problems and to establish accord among the nations in matters pertaining to civil aviation. The organization faces a difficult and exacting task but if it succeeds it will be an important instrument for preserving world peace. Canada has given leadership in forming this body and the fact that the permanent headquarters will now be located here adds to the general interest in the success of its work.

But British Casualties Only Third Of First Great War

A total of 357,116 Britons were killed in the Second Great War, official figures disclosed, 95,095 were civilians, 30,248 were in the merchant navy and fishing fleets, 1,206 were in the Home Guard and 624 in the Women's Auxiliary Services. Those killed in the services were: Navy 50,758; Army 144,079; Royal Air Force 69,946.

Of the civilians who died from enemy action, 26,923 were men, 25,349 women and 7,736 children under 16.

There also were 537 unidentified bodies.

The figures cover the full fighting period from Sept. 3, 1939, to Aug. 18, 1945.

The number killed was approximately about one-third of that in the First Great War.

Price Control And Rationing Information

Q.—Where do we turn in spare ration coupons or meat tokens? I have been told if we turn in unused valid ration coupons, rationed food equal to the value of coupons, will be forwarded overseas to starving people.

A.—The local ration board in your community will accept any spare ration coupons you may have. Your local ration board can also give you information about groups who will be collecting ration coupons in your neighborhood. Every group must carry an official card from the Ration Administration and you are to ask to see this card before handing over your coupons or tokens.

Q.—We will be hiring extra help from time to time in our farm this summer. How many meals must I serve before I am entitled to extra coupons?

A.—Extra ration coupons are only issued for a total of twelve meals or over. If extra help is required for two weeks or more, the ration book of the person employed must be given to you.

Q.—I heard on the radio that meat coupons M-29 to M-30 and butter coupons R-1 to R-9 will become invalid for the purchase of these commodities after June 30. Does this mean that the "Beaver" coupons, issued to members of the armed forces and other temporary ration card holders, will also be declared invalid?

A.—"Beaver" coupons will not be affected by the radio announcement, which you heard. These "Beaver" coupons, and all sugar coupons, will remain valid until further notice.

Q.—I am planning on a visit to the United States. I will be staying with friends of mine and would like to know if I will be entitled to sugar ration coupons when I enter the States.

A.—If you apply at any local branch of the Office of the Price Administration in the United States, you will be allowed sugar ration points. You are entitled to ration points if you are visiting for over two weeks in the States.

Please send your questions or your request for the pamphlet "Consumer's News" or the Blue Book in which you keep track of your ceiling prices, mentioning the name of this paper to the nearest Wartime Prices and Trade Board office in your province.

Safety Measure

According to the Scientific American, a new radio distance indicator for trains which can detect the approach of any other train up to eight miles is now being put into use by the Rock Island R.R. To eliminate danger of accidents, these "radio" units are installed both in front and in the rear of trains; they send out signals in code and automatically convert signals received into distance, thus immediately warning the engineer of any danger.

ITCH CHECKED

For relief from itching caused by eczema, use the famous "ITCH CHECKED" ointment. It is a powerful, soothing, and healing preparation. It is the only ointment that has been tested by the U.S. Army Medical Department and found to be effective.

Judge Advises Applicants For Citizenship To Read Newspapers

"To keep properly posted about your new country I can give you no better advice than to read your newspaper. It is a complete fund of knowledge of news and events both here and abroad."

These are the words of Judge J. H. McDonald, of Sault Ste. Marie, addressed to nine applicants for Canadian citizenship in his court recently. His advice was given special point when one of the applicants could not give the name of the Canadian Prime Minister, the Premier of Ontario, or even the mayor of Sault Ste. Marie.

Ghost Rocket

Was Seen To Pass Over Finland At High Altitude

Witnesses said they had seen a light-emitting "rocket" pass over Helsinki, the Finnish capital, in a southeasterly direction. The rocket, the observers said, was flying at an altitude of 800 to 1200 feet and was followed by a smoke trail. It was the first one observed in Finland, although several have been reported lately crossing southern Sweden and Denmark in approximately the same direction.

More Recognition

Should Be Given To Authors And Composers In Canada

More scope and better rewards for Canadian authors and composers were advocated by Louis A. Dooley, leading English music publisher, who attended the annual meeting of the Canadian Authors' and Publishers' Association in Toronto.

Canadians tend to underestimate the value of their authors and publishers and limit rewards to individuals and societies," said Mr. Dooley, president of the International Confederation of Authors' and Composers' Society.

Radio Speeches

Question Is As To Whether A Half-Hour Speech Is Too Long

In connection with political speeches on the radio, the question has arisen as to whether a half-hour political speech is not too long. That, it seems to us, depends on the speaker. A half-hour radio speech by Mr. Churchill might seem to many too short; a quarter-hour speech by an inferior speaker might seem to many too long. We ourselves have heard radio speakers and thought after five minutes they were too long.

We forget who it was that said of Bacon that when he was speaking "men feared he might make an end." The trouble with most of our radio speakers, and some of our platform speakers too, is that they make their hearts fear they will never make an end. A further trouble with some of our radio speakers is that they make no attempt to find out what radio speaking is about. They don't seem to understand that when they are speaking on the radio they are speaking to people in their homes, and that, given the privilege of entering such homes, they should do so with grace and good manners.—Ottawa Journal.

SMILE AWHILE

Wife: "Are all men as stupid as you are?"

Husband: "No, dear, look at all the bachelors there are!"

Mother: "I told you just now to look at them!"

John: "I know, but this isn't the same house. I was playing the drum then, but I'm blowing my whistle now."

"Married men make the best commercial travellers," asserts a business magazine.

No doubt because they are so used in taking orders.

"I've been bad for seven weeks."

"That's too bad. Flu, I suppose?"

"Yes and crashed."

Visitor: "My, you're a bright little girl. How do you know it's the first of the month?"

Child: "Cause all of daddy's letters have front windows in them."

Teacher: "Do you know why the little chickens come out of the eggs, Tommy?"

"I believe," said the bride, "in a perfect understanding between a man and wife. I intend to make my husband understand that he no longer can do whatever he pleases."

Husband: "Anything nice for tea tonight, dear?"

Wife: "Oh yes, sponge cake. I sponged the eggs from Mrs. Smith, the flour from Mrs. Jones and the milk from Mr. Duncan."

"How did your wife like the diamond ring you gave her for her birthday?"

"Delighted. She was awfully nice for a couple of days. But she's herself again now."

"George looks worried today. What's wrong with him?"

"Oh, he's been contesting his wife's will."

"His wife's? I didn't know she was dead."

"She isn't."

Teacher: "There's only one truthful boy in this class, Tommy."

Smith: "In an undertone, 'That's me.'"

Teacher: "Did you speak, Smith?"

Smith: "No, sir."

Despite Shortages

Thousand-Year-Old Custom Observed Recently in English Village

ST. BRIVELLES, England.—Bread is scarce and cheese is rationed in Britain, but hundreds had both for the asking at a 1,000-year-old ceremony at this Gloucestershire hamlet.

Fifty pounds of bread and cheese in small cuts were thrown from a wall to townspeople and visitors. The Whit Sunday custom commemorates the right of villagers to take wood from a section of the Forest of Dean.

Just how the bread and cheese is linked with the wood, no one remembers. W. G. Chewick's family paid for the refreshments. The Food Ministry did not ask for ration coupons.

Orphan Village

To Be Built In Switzerland To Shelter Children From Devastated Europe

Foundations of a village to shelter 350 orphans from various devastated European countries were laid recently on an eleven acre tract near Trogen, in the mountainous eastern part of Switzerland.

The first 15 dwellings will be built in Swiss farm style, surrounded by orchards and pasture. Three to five houses will be grouped to form a community where the children will be instructed by Swiss and foreign teachers.

The children's village was named Pestalozzi, after the famous Swiss educator who died in 1827.

The insecticide now known as DDT was first compounded in 1874, but its practical value was not determined until 1929.

A Round-Up Of Manitoba's Recent Agricultural Progress Is Contained In A Report

An interesting round-up of Manitoba's recent agricultural progress is contained in the annual report of the Industrial Development Board of Manitoba. The following is part of the sub report of the Board's Soil Products Committee:

Dr. H. H. Saunders last spring completed and submitted his detailed study on the manufacture of pulp, paperboard and wallboard from waste straw. Due to the technical and confidential nature of this report, it was not published but was acted upon by the Board in collaboration with the Manitoba Department of Agriculture. A sample of Recent wheat straw large enough for test runs was sent to Iowa State College at Ames, Iowa. A recent letter from Dr. L. K. Arnold, Research Associate Professor of Chemical Engineering there, states that "We have already made several runs of the board and the material looks promising."

Considerable work has been made in Manitoba in 1945 in flax fibre development, with the official opening of a Pilot Flax Fibre Mill at Portage la Prairie on December 21, 1945. This was built and is being operated by the Dominion Department of Agriculture. Initial cost of this project was $100,000, and the Dominion Government is providing $20,000 per annum for this research.

The Minnesota process for making high-grade linen fabric from the straw of flax grown for seed, sponsored by the Minnesota-North Dakota Resources Development Commission, was described by Dr. H. H. Reyserson, Chairman of the Commission, in an address on September 13 to the Soil Products Committee and its guests, which included the members of the Board, members of the Manitoba Government and their deputies, and a number of scientific and technical men.

Dr. Reyserson also spoke on the production of alpha cellulose from aspen or poplar, a process which enlarges the prospects of profitable use of Manitoba-grown poplar.

In view of the keen demand for flaxseed oil, the Soil Products Committee devoted some study to means of encouraging the planting of increased acreage of oilseed flax in Manitoba.

The new plant of the Coop-Veg. Vegetable Oils Limited, at Altona, for extraction of vegetable oils, viz. sunflower seed, rape seed and flax seed, which was under construction last year, was placed in operation in March, 1946.

Mr. J. L. Welsh of Omaha, Nebraska, addressed the Soil Products Committee and a number of guests from the Winnipeg Grain Exchange and Canadian Wheat Board on November 15. Mr. Welsh is Vice-President of the Farm Crops Processing Corporation of Omaha, a $6,500,000 plant which used 32,000 bushels of damaged and off-grade grains per day and had a peak daily capacity of 60,000 gallons of alcohol. Most of this alcohol went into the production of butadiene for synthetic rubber.

The Soil Products Committee corresponded with Dr. E. S. Archibald, Director of the Central Experimental Farm at Ottawa, and with Mr. W. V. R. Leslie, superintendent of the Dominion Experimental Farm at Morden, on the subject of fruit and vegetable processing.

The use of cereal straw for insulating board, used for wood waste and dead fall of the forests, and fertilizer from the shuck of the average diseased plant are being actively investigated. Every effort is being made for the establishment of sound industries utilizing such raw materials.

The easing of Government restrictions made it possible to start a new business. This was reflected by the fact that during the year forty-six new industries commenced operation in Manitoba.

The outlook for the coming year is encouraging. Your committee believes that aggressive action coupled with unprecedented consumer demand will result in the establishment of many new industries within the province.—Canadian Finance.

LATEST CARS

A Detroit engineer has designed a car which appears to be about the last word in automotive engineering. Included are: Movable reclining chairs for all but the driver; a back seat that converts into a double bed; a fibre glass plastic body; doors controlled by electric push-buttons; air-purified engine, and an engine placed at the rear. In short, everything but an automatic muzzler for back-seat drivers.—Calgary Albertan.

THE BRITISH PEOPLE

The Empire may be weakened, but not the British people. There are many who believe that the post-war generation will be more enterprising and resourceful than their fathers. Certainly the British are the best risks in the world today—and a only strong competition in the business of making the democratic system work.—New York Times.

A Striking Address

Given In Few Words By Speaker To Graduating Class

Howard Vincent O'Brien, in the Chicago Daily News, says: In the season of the commencement address it blankets the landscape with high and lengthy polysyllables. In strange contrast was the speech made to a graduating class by S. Dewitt Clough, top man of the Abbott Laboratories.

Observe its brevity. Observe, too, that it contains no word of more than one syllable:

"It was good of you to ask me to be with you. I am glad to be here. You have all done well. I urge you to press on to the high goals you have in mind. Aim at the stars. You will hit some of them. Luck is just a bit of pluck."

"Your thoughts, plus faith, will come true. You are what you think. You can be what you will. Bear this in mind. Think well and you will do well. Think well and you will be well."

"Let your aims in all your work be these:

"Be brief.

"Be clear.

"Be kind.

"Be true.

"Bless all and God will bless you. There can be no chance for you to fail as long as you think right."

"This is my speech."

TREATMENT OF INDIANS

Put bluntly, we treat the Indian as a poor relation, and take few steps to help him move out of that category. We expect him to stay out of sight as much as possible, in areas labeled for his use alone. If he ventures into the wider world around him to make a living, he suffers certain penalties. He is apparently condemned to hunt and trap and fish, and be content with such constricted occupation in perpetuity.—Victoria Colonist.

Strange New Craft

British Inventor Working On Vessel He Calls A Hydrona

On the Isle of Wight, across Southampton Water, a British inventor is busy on a strange seagoing craft which he claims will carry cargo or passengers at a speed of more than 30 knots.

This vessel—half boat, half aircraft—is called a hydrona. When under way the hull does not touch the water. The hull is shaped like that of a flying boat with a "pusher" type airscrew attached to the tail unit. From either side of the hull depend two arms which thrust out ahead of the vessel and then bend back under the water.

To look at it, the effect is rather like a powered grasshopper. When the airscrew moves the boat, and it gathers speed, the hull rides out of the water, and the arms remain immersed. Horizontal plates at the bottom of each arm are automatically adjusted to cut into the waves at the correct angle.

It is claimed that pitching and rolling are thus limited, and that the very small resistance offered by the arms will enable great speeds to be obtained at low cost. The inventor is Christopher Hook of London. He built his first hydrona in 1942.

In taste, sake, the national beverage of Japan, resembles madeira or sherry wine. It is made from fermented rice.

Better Than Art

Painting By Military Hospital Patient Masterpiece Of Courage

Characterized by attendants as a masterpiece of courage, if not of art, a little pastel painting of a few huts, with a small church spire behind them, hangs on the wall of the Red Cross canteen at Christie Street hospital at Toronto.

The man who painted the picture has lost the sight of his right eye and loses a year and more of torturing skin grafts with a light and cheerful air. He has very little of his right hand left—but he is lucky about that, for he is left-handed.

The painter, William H. McLaughlin of Winnipeg, was in an armoured car of the 12th Manitoba Dragoons at Falaise, France. A shell hit the armoured car and it burst into flame. McLaughlin barely managed to get out.

That was two years ago. McLaughlin said he was taking the "opportunity" to indulge in a long-dreamed-of penchant for painting.

CAN BE OVERDONE

Dr. Hamilton Robinson, professor of dentistry at Ohio State University, warned the St. Louis Dental Society that a person can overdo brushing the teeth. One might work half way through a tooth in six or seven years by applying the brush too vigorously and using denturines containing an excessive amount of abrasives, he said.

Italy's Royal Exiles Now In Portugal

Department Of Agriculture Is Planning To Extend Research Work This Year

To enable scientists of the Department of Agriculture to extend their work, estimates submitted to the Dominion Parliament this session are substantially higher than those approved at the last session. Should this year's estimates pass, the research activities of the Department will be facilitated to carry out the considerable expansion that has been planned for some time.

The scientists have brought and are developing new and better cereals, grasses, clovers, fibre crops, fruits and vegetables. Many of these plants, such as soybeans, were never grown in Canada until the Canadian plant breeder produced early varieties that would mature in Canada.

The large grain growing industry of Western Canada would not have been possible had it not been for the work of Canadian scientists producing earlier sorts of grain. In addition to having produced new strains of cereal grains they have also bred varieties resistant to diseases and against the incessant hordes of insects. Now the work may be expanded.

Considerable expansion will be carried out at the Dominion Experimental Farms and throughout the Prairie Provinces in connection with soil drifting, the use of new varieties of crops, and the adoption of the latest cultural methods. In the Division of Botany an increase in the work has been made possible on the control of diseases of fruit and vegetable crops and control of seedborne diseases.

An encouraging expansion is taking place in the Division of Entomology where an additional amount of $20,235 has been provided for agricultural entomology and $461,463 for forest entomology for fighting crop and forest destroying insect pests. Expansion has taken place on the control of field crop, garden, and fruit insects in Eastern Canada and British Columbia and on insects attacking grain crops in the Prairie Provinces.

The important work of preserving Canada's forests is being extended. Increased staff and facilities have been arranged for the forest insect survey to determine the extent and nature of insect destruction in the forests, and a new research laboratory constructed by the Ontario Department of Lands and Forests at Scott St. Marie is being equipped and staffed by the Dominion Divisions of Entomology for intensive work.

Large Turtle

Fishermen Lands A Half-Ton Turtle In Australia

SYDNEY, Australia. At nearby Palm Beach last month fishermen landed a half-ton turtle, estimated to be 200 years old.

The turtle, believed to be the largest landed so far south of the tropics, was caught in the net of two professional fishermen. Their mechanical gear was not equal to the strain of hauling the turtle aboard, and they had to travel it six miles and obtain the help of four other men before they could get it into their boat.

The meat was cut off and sent to the Sydney Fish Market, where it proved popular with the public. Local residents who cut off samples for both soup and steak said it was delicious. The fishermen, who caught it spent nearly a day cleaning the barnacles from the shell to make it into a dinghy, and one of them plans to take his young son for a trip out to sea in the improved craft.

SETTING UP EXERCISE

That suggestion "Get out of bed on the right side" isn't just fancy, say Ottawa health authorities. The Physical Fitness Division of the Department of National Health and Welfare points out that the start of a day is an important. They suggest that those who would conserve and build up health as often as a few minutes in bed, get up and set up. "Open the window wider," they say, "inhale deeply, and then start out to meet life with a smile by getting up to work."

WORLD-WIDE FAMINE THREATENS

"Three times as many people will die of starvation in the next six months as were killed in the whole of the war," predicts an agricultural expert in Great Britain, Dr. Henry Richardson. "The number of potential famine victims at the end of six months is estimated at 60,000,000 dead."

It is a mistake to think, however, as some persons would have us think, that the present crop season in the northern hemisphere will end the food crisis, and that we should just wait for the "storm to blow over." Wiser voices are saying that the food crisis will last for at least two or three years. Sir John Boyd Orr, the Scottish farmer and nutritionist who recently took on the great responsibility of directing the Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations, said that the world food shortage will continue "for the next four or five years."

Canadians have a two-fold contribution to make, first to save all possible food until the peoples of other parts of the world are able to produce more normal food supplies for themselves. This may mean self-denial on the part of consumers, it may mean continued sacrifice on the part of producers. It should mean a more aggressive food production policy on the part of the Dominion Government. Canadian public policy should see that there is labor available to set Canada's farm going at capacity.

Canada's policy should stress production ever more than food conservation. The Dominion Government recognized, in the speech from the throne at the opening of the present session of parliament, that all Canada's wartime effort and sacrifice might be lost through famine. "Unless the need is met, grave disorders, endangering peace itself, must be anticipated," Mr. Fiorello LaGuardia, the director of UNRRA, said recently: "I wouldn't attempt to describe the conditions in China. They are just too terrible and horrible to adequately describe. And that is also true of India."

Every extra portion of food saved or produced will find its way to the needy, Canadian government authorities promise. Mr. A. M. Shaw, formerly dean of the faculty of agriculture at the University of Saskatchewan, and now chairman of the Dominion Government's Food Information Committee said recently: "Every bushel of wheat, every pound of meat, and every egg saved by the Canadian people to relieve famine conditions abroad is picked up by the government and shipped."

Take responsibility, or take the consequences. Wisdom is knowing what to do next.

I AM THE PRINTING PRESS

I am the printing press, born of the Mother Earth. My heart is of steel, my limbs are of iron, and my fingers are of brass.

I sing the songs of the world, the oratorios of history, the symphonies of all time.

I am the voice of today, the herald of tomorrow. I weave into the warp of the past, the woof of the future. I tell the stories of peace and of war alike.

When I speak a myriad people listen to my voice. The Anglo-Saxon, the Celt, the Hun, the Slav, the Hindu, all comprehend me.

I am the tireless clarion of the news. I cry your joys and sorrows every hour. I fill the dullard's mind with thought uplifting. I am light, knowledge, and power. I epitomize the conquests of mind over matter.

I am the record of all things mankind has achieved. My offspring comes to you in the candle's glow, amid the dim lamps of poverty, the splendor of riches—at sunrise, at high noon, and in the waning evening.

I am the laughter and tears of the world, and I shall never die until all things return to the immutable dust.

WEDDINGS

NOBLE — JENKINS

Knox United Church in Calgary was the scene of a quiet and pretty wedding on June 19th at 3 o'clock when Miss Una Jenkins, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. Jenkins of Didsbury was united in marriage to Mr. T. Noble also of Didsbury. Rev Huband performed the marriage ceremony.

The bride was given in marriage by her eldest brother Mr. Dave Jenkins. The matron-of-honor was Mrs. Kathleen Jenkins, sister in law of the bride, while the groom was attended by Mr. W. Clarke.

The bride looked beautiful in a wedding gown of long white sheer with a floor length veil. She carried a bouquet of American Beauty Rose. Her attendant chose a pale yellow sheer dress and carried a bouquet of yellow roses interspersed with sweet peas.

The wedding march was played by Mr. Hjylins of Knox United Church.

The wedding reception was held at the Empress Hotel where more than twenty of the bride couple's relatives and intimate friends gathered.

Mr. and Mrs. Noble plan to take up residence in Calgary in the near future.

VALUABLE CROPS

Forage crops increase the fertility of the soil on which they grow. They make profitable use of lands unsuited for other crops, and they ensure a more stabilized increase in the national revenue.—Agriculture Institute Review.

FLOCK PSYCHOLOGY

Poultry authorities are stressing the need for persistent culling of the poultry flock, particularly at the present time when feed is scarce. Drones in a flock are always a liability not only for the feed they eat but also for the example they set to the other birds. Flock psychology may have greater business significance than is realized. Drones have a depressing effect on the production of the rest of the flock.

Mrs. Walter McCulloch has been visiting in Calgary with her sister Mrs. Jensen of Forest Lawn.

Was a life? If it isn't dogs or coyotes its skunks. About midnight one night last week crowds proceeding to a district dance saw a flash light with a flash light and a rifle, after a skunk which had raided the chicks. Believe it or not, says he got the son of a canine too.

DOCTOR HARVEY GIBBS, the eminent psychiatrist, paced the carpeted floor of his study and smoked his fifth cigarette since dinner. The house was quiet—much too quiet. That's the way it had been ever since his wife left him.

Night after night, alone in the house and silence. He had tried turning on the radio, but that was worse. For through the noise of the music or the speeches, he would imagine he heard things—a car stopping, the doorbell ringing, light laughter in the hall—Leone! And he would click off the radio suddenly and he would hear—nothing! Just blank stillness. So it was better not to play the radio. This way he could listen . . . and wait.

It seemed to Harvey Gibbs that he had been waiting half a lifetime; and yet it was only three months—the time he himself had set. And it had been worth it. He had gambled and won. Leone was coming home that night.

It had been a bitter blow when she told him that she was leaving him—going away with Geoffrey. Lane, Harvey Gibbs loved his wife and he believed that she loved him too. But she was young and gay, attractive to men. And Geoffrey was the romantic type, in contrast to his own middle-aged staidness.

In his practice, Doctor Gibbs encountered dozens of similar marital problems. He usually advised the husband to let his wife have her "fling". Perhaps a great romantic adventure was all she needed. Perhaps, like Leone, she had been cheated of this by an early and practical marriage.

So he had asked Leone to wait three months before asking for a divorce. If she changed her mind she had only to let him know. He would be waiting.

Harvey sat down at his desk and took out the letter he had received from her when only two of the three months had elapsed. Reading it with some compulsion made him read it all through again. Although it had been read and handled so often that the creases were worn thin.

It was dated from Florida and told how she and Geoff had rented "the sweetest little cottage" on an isolated part of the beach. How they swam together, and baled shrimps by a bonfire at midnight, and how she helped Geoff with his writing, and above all how gloriously happy they both were.

"Harvey dear," she had written in her impulsive script "you might just as well start those divorce proceedings, because it's all agreed. Geoff and I are going to be happy together forever and ever."

But Harvey had stuck to his agreement and had gone on waiting. Then, that day, with the time limit almost expired, he had got her telegram. It lay beside her letter in the desk. He knew the words by heart. "You were right. It didn't work. I left him a week ago."

Just that, and a request that she might come to see him that evening. Probably she was on her way now. Harvey pressed his fingers against his temples. If only the throbbing in his head would stop; then he could think, could realize. He knew he should be wildly happy, but he was so tired, oh so very tired.

It was as though the strained tension of these past months had become so habitual that he no longer knew how to relax. He rubbed his forehead again but still that tight band seemed to be pressing in on his temples. He tried to picture their meeting. Would she have changed, he wondered. He himself had aged years. Only that other day he had caught his old houseman looking at him with an expression of pity. Pity—for him? The impudence of the fellow! But Leone, he must think of Leone. She would be ashamed and repentant, he knew, and probably jumble at first. It would be up to him to nurse her bruised ego, to justify her actions in her own eyes, to forgive her completely and ungrudgingly.

So absorbed was Harvey in his thoughts that the muffled ringing of the doorbell and the quiet footsteps of the servant who answered it failed to make him stir. He was startled when he rose to pour himself a drink, then steadied himself, one hand gripping the edge of his desk.

Leone was standing in the doorway. After all his waiting and listening he had after all failed to hear her come home. More beautiful than ever, her cheeks still flushed from the southern sun, she advanced to greet him. Harvey waved her to a chair without speaking. Leone watched him with some concern, uncertain what to do or say. He had sunk back in his chair, staring at her as if he did not really see her. He was trembling.

"Forgive me, my dear," he finally managed to say. "The shock of seeing you suddenly like this—it rather bewildered me."

"But still he felt dazed and confused. He heard Leone speaking, but her voice seemed to come from far away. Then, her cheeks still flushed from the southern sun, she advanced to greet him. Harvey waved her to a chair without speaking. Leone watched him with some concern, uncertain what to do or say. He had sunk back in his chair, staring at her as if he did not really see her. EROSION PROBLEMS

Building Along Coast Of Britain Undermined By The Sea

Along the east coast and in Wales, the people talk of "vanishing Britain"—vanishing into the sea. Erosion is a growing problem, accentuated by six years of war that saw sea-walls crumble from want of repair and deep gashes cut by the waves in areas where protection could not be provided for want of labor and materials.

Now so much work must be done that municipalities contend they cannot finance it. Meetings are being held to urge the national government to accept responsibility.

Pleasant coastal villages are waiting to be swallowed up, gradually, without hope. Substantial buildings, undermined by the sea, are doomed. On the East Norfolk coast, facing the North Sea, the broken sections of a thick flint wall are half-buried in the sand below high-water mark. It is the top of a church's tower—last vestige of a sizeable village.

At Clatter, north of Yarmouth, pillboxes built for defense during the war have been toppled over. In 1942 the sea advanced 100 yards in six months. It still is advancing 10 feet a year.

A massive concrete sea-wall at Lowestoft, built some years ago, fell recently to east coast storms and now is undermined and useless. At Mundesley, Norfolk, a new cliff fall tumbled hotel outbuildings to the sands, and at Overstrand, near Cromer, houses and a hotel soon will disappear.

In the west, erosion is most serious in Wales, with most damage at Rhyl, Colwyn Bay and between Llanelli and Kidwelly River. The south coast, too, is losing ground, at points between Beshall and Eastbourne, Newhaven and Brighton and Shoreham and Chichester.

Adequate defence is estimated to cost £150,000 ($407,500). A mile of the worst stretches. Most small centres argue they cannot possibly provide the funds.

Hops For Large Pack

Canadians May Get Plenty Of Canned Salmon This Year

Canadians will be able to enjoy nearly as much canned salmon from the 1946 pack as they did from pre-war packs, according to the grocery trade publication, Canadian Grocer.

A report in a recent issue, says 500,000 cases of the 1946 pack have been allotted the domestic market. This represents an increase of 65 per cent over the amount Canadian grocers had last year's pack, when only 300,000 cases were retained in this country for Canadian consumption.

The year before it was 220,000 and in 1943, 200,000 cases. Canadian Grocer points out that last year's pack was so big because of the choice variety of al. Packers are hoping for an unusually large pack this year, maybe 800,000 cases, but the variety alone, while the total pack of all varieties may run to 1,500,000 cases.

If all goes well Canada will have a large export surplus for sale in the British market and for other sterling countries, as well as being able to satisfy the wants of the home market some completely than has been the case since early in the war.

Canning will commence sometime in June and 1946 salmon should make its first appearance on grocers' shelves sometime next December if not before.

Mouth Organs

Harmonicas Are Now Produced In Ontario Plants

Harmonicas labelled "made in Canada" soon may be on sale in all parts of the world, the Trade Department said.

Before the war, Canadian mouth organ tone was dependent on the Bohmer plant at Trevesingen, Germany, for their favorite musical instrument, but hostilities ended production. Three Ontario plants at Gananoque, Port Credit and Toronto, seized the opportunity to start a new post-war industry and began to manufacture harmonicas.

The production rate now is meeting domestic demand and soon there will be plenty for export, the department said. To facilitate harmonica shipments, the Government has decided that export permits for most foreign countries will not be required.

Musko Sequel

Meeting To Be Next Fall In The Alaska Area

In line with the continental defence policies under study by the permanent joint defence board, Canadian observers will be on hand when large-scale American assaults on the Canadian Musko expedition are held next fall and winter in the Alaska area. Canadians will be present on both Operation Frigate and Operation Willaway in Alaska and full reports on Operation Frost in Wisconsin will be given to the Canadian general staff.

PLENTY OF LAND

Available In Western Canada And Suitable For Homesteading

The land movement of 40 years ago, it is often said, can never be exactly duplicated, because farms are not to be obtained for the asking. It is true that most of the homestead land has been alienated and that a newcomer to the West who wishes to start farming on even terms with the men now established must buy his farm from a private owner. For the immigrants who are so inclined, however, there is still abundant opportunity for the pioneer. That is, there is still homestead land. None of it is near a railway or shipping facilities. But there are lands for a newcomer to the West available for homesteading that are up to the average in fertility and which may, within a few years, be well served by railway lines. —Gulph Mercury.

Few Failures

Canada Now Shows A High Solvency In Business

An all-time peak for business solvency in Canada was established in 1945 with only 60 failures showing total liabilities of $1,960,000. These figures, from the records of Dun & Bradstreet, compare with a peak of 3,695 failures in 1922 showing aggregate liabilities of $78,069,000.

If the history of failures following the First Great War provides a forecast of events to come, Canada is heading into a rising tide of failures that will reach its ebbs only after the current upsurge of business enthusiasm has been liquidated.

There has been a rush in recent months into all kinds of business enterprises, chiefly by returned men, powered by their war service savings and government loans. Many of these new ventures will, it is predicted, fail by the wayside but there is a feeling that the percentage of business wrecks will not approach the figures recorded in the post-war years of 1918-23.

Not only are statistics dealing with supplies and markets now more readily available but the disasters of 25 years ago left a legacy of experience that is likely to curb the gambling factor.

Failures came fast about three years after the end of the First Great War. The total for 1921 was 2,451 and 1922 brought the record peak of 3,695. Then followed a slow decline until the stock market crash in 1929 and the depression that resulted.

Great Step Forward

Man Invents A Machine To Regulate Length Of Speeches

A Chicago inventor with an eye to giving aid and comfort to suffering humanity has come up with a machine that regulates the length of addresses by after-dinner speakers. This is a great step forward. It is to be fondly hoped that the gadget not only is foolproof, but that the inventor sets to work immediately on the mechanical additions or adjustments necessary to improve the quality of speeches. Most habitual listeners, however, would settle for an attachment to tune out at any time.—New York Times Telegram.

A REAL RECORD

SCHENECTADY, N.Y. — Thirty-five men painted a new, five-room cottage in three minutes 13.2 seconds and claimed a world's speed record. An estimated 2,000 spectators cheered the men, all from painters local 62 (A.F.L.), as they coated the house white. The dwelling will be occupied by Joseph Valentine, a war veteran.

Sports College

Membership Is Reported To Be Nearing The 200,000 Mark

"Coach" Lloyd Percival, director of the CBC-YMCA "Sports College", and William R. Cook report that the membership in the College is now nearing the 200,000 mark. There's nothing like "Sports College" in any other place in the world, they say. In Newfoundland whole schools are joining up en masse. There are over 15,000 coaches and club managers in the College. Over a million pieces of literature have been distributed, and nearly a million letters have been received. Athletes like Les Patrick, Sgt. Apps, Jack Dempsey, Carl Bennett, Clam Clark, Stan Cutts, Dean Cromwell and others endorse the project.

SELF-RELIANCE

We have always thought that one reason farm boys and girls are more self-reliant than boys from the towns and cities is that they see on the farm that there are tasks which can only be accomplished by application and hard work. They have a training in work that stands them in good stead.

Private Planes

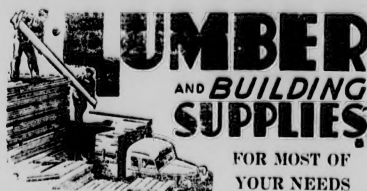

Will Be So Commonplace That They Will Disturb The Peace

Former General Doolittle's prediction that 100,000 private planes will be flying in the United States within nine years, is no doubt a sign of great aviation progress. Yet the average citizen is bound to wonder how much peace and quiet can be expected when such a goal is reached. The night and day drone of planes is already causing annoyance to households living in the neighbourhood of airports. What is it going to be like when flying has become commonplace? Let us hope plane manufacturers are working on silencing devices to tone down the racket.—Boston Post.
